APOLOGY

A Conflict Prevention Tool?

What is an effective apology anyway? Do I have to? It's the company who should... They owe me one! Can I be sued if I do? Everybody makes mistakes... Who issues an apology? The Government doesn't apologize, does it? It's a slippery slope Why me? How will it make things better? What's the point? But I don't have anything to apologize for!

SCHEDULE

March 31, 2009 at 8:30 AM U.S. EPA - Region 9 75 Hawthorne St. San Francisco, CA 94105

Location Contact Information: ChereAmie Bischoff Phone: 415-972-3234 Fax: 415-947-3528 E-mail: bischoff.chereamie@epa.gov

For Additional Information and to Register go to Trainex www.trainex.org.

A workshop and discussion for EPA attorneys, project managers (RPMs), managers, and community involvement specialists or any EPA employee who works on controversial decisions. Environmental Justice and Tribal coordinators as well as permit writers and enforcement case managers or inspectors may also find this course relevant to their jobs. Presented by expert mediators Patrick Field Consensus Building Institute Lucy Moore Lucy Moore and Associates

Ray Daw NFZ Consulting

agreement made easier

conflict Prevention and Resolution Center