

1.1 Applicability

Because Subpart X is an exclusionary category, a variety of treatment and disposal units are considered. Some of the types of operational units that are discussed in this document include open burn/open detonation (OB/OD) units, enclosed combustion devices, carbon and catalyst regeneration units, thermal desorption units, shredders, crushers, filter presses and geologic repositories. A number of innovative and emerging technologies for the treatment of hazardous wastes also may be considered for permitting under Subpart X.